CG/13/18	Victorian Kitchen Garden	Vintage Worx Community Development Trust propose to create a Victorian Kitchen Garden within a walled area of Falinge Park that will provide the local community with the opportunity to grow fruits, vegetables and herbs. Residential properties surrounding the park are predominantly multi-story flats and small terraced housing without private gardens. This project will enable people over 50 to come together around a common interest of gardening and make friendships whilst improving their health. The onsite tea rooms will provide a kitchen where the new gardeners can have the option of creating healthy dishes from their produce. The gardening group will have access to a community room to socialise when the weather prevents gardening and meet up with other gardening groups for seed swapping events and pot seeds with children from local primary schools. In addition, a community garden area will be created to provide a peaceful place for mature residents to meet up and relax.	Spotland & Falinge	£2,500	11 February 2019	Awarded £2,500 from Clean & Green Priority Fund
