c) Aims and objectives of your organisation and activities or services it provides

The main aims and objectives of Wardle Anderson Brass Band are:

To provide the support, facilities and players to maintain a highly professional community based brass band.

To ensure the band maintains provision for young people to progress to when they over 18 and therefore too old to compete in Youth Band competitions.

To provide professional guidance and direction to ensure the band continually improves and enables continual improvement for all the band members.

To continue to provide regular subsidised entertainment, marches and concerts at local churches and within the local community.

To compete in competitions, encouraging improvement and positively promoting our local area.

To provide support to Wardle Community Band – a band created for absolute beginners to learn a brass instrument which has been a great success and many people have taken advantage of. Some players have stayed with the band and some have moved on to other bands in the area.

SECTION 4 – ABOUT THE PROJECT AND JUSTIFICATION

Details of the proposed project and what benefits will this project bring for participants, organisation, group or wider community?

The Wardle Anderson brass band was formed in the 1990s, consisting of players from the Wardle Academy Youth Band who, at 19, became too old to play in youth band competitions. In 1997 the band received a lottery grant to buy new instruments and uniforms. The old instruments were used to create Wardle Community Band which gave anyone who had never played an instrument the chance to learn and join a band. All of the brass instruments have now been professionally refurbished to a very high standard which ensures that every player is playing on a top quality instrument, rightly so for a championship section band.

The band now has one section of instruments left to upgrade which is the percussion section. This grant would be used to fund the replacement/addition of instruments to the section so that they can be used for regular rehearsals, concerts and contests. The instruments we hope to purchase have been thought about with logistics in mind to make it more possible and safer for the players to move to various venues. The timpani drums are designed with foldable legs, have a smaller/lighter profile and protective casing so that they can be loaded on and off the van easily on a regular basis when traveling around the community delivering concerts.

The band have always been highly professional and successful, have always had a strong presence within the local community, and always provided facilities for young people to be able to join a brass band and continually contribute and develop their skills. The majority of the members of Wardle Anderson Brass Band are also members of the Wardle Academy Youth Band. With Wardle Anderson having such a strong link with the Youth Band, the new percussion would also be available for the Youth Band to use as well as the school music groups (brass bands, windbands, jazz band, folk group and percussion ensemble). This will mean the impact on the community will be even larger. The Youth Band take part in many very high profile contests throughout the year and have been placed first on many occasions in both the National and European Youth Brass Band Championships and will regularly have use of some of these instruments to prepare and perform at these events.
